VISUAL ARTS

Beginner Portrait Painting

Learn how to create a portrait painting in acrylic from sketch to completion in this six week course, with inspiration from the documentary portrait photography of Tim Smith in the gallery. We'll look at how Tim Smith uses dramatic lighting in his portraits, and we'll look at famous portraits in art history, for inspiration to capture character, expression and mood of a subject. Learn how to work from a photograph as subject matter, as you experiment with pose, lighting, composition, facial structure, choosing a palette, color mixing for skin tones, and creating shadow and light in color. We'll explore some drawing techniques first to get comfortable with forms and features, and work through progressive steps in painting. All supplies are included.

Candid Portrait Photography Lifestyle Session with Tim Smith

Learn how to capture the moments that count from professional photographer, Tim Smith. Whether you are a photography enthusiast or just looking to improve the photos you take of family, friends, and life around you, this workshop is for you. Almost everyone has a camera in their pocket now thanks to the rise of smartphones and every year the camera technology improves. No matter what camera you are using, the same rules to great photography such as composition, light and waiting for the right moment still apply. This workshop will focus more on the art of candid and portrait photography and less on the technical aspects so that it is accessible regardless of whether you have a smart phone or a DSLR. Please bring a fully charged smartphone or DSLR camera with you.

Art Discovery Lab - Alchemy in Art

Mix the Elements of Art (line, shape, space, color, value, form, texture) with the Chinese and Greek Elements of wood, earth, fire, metal, air and water, and the result is a great day of art-making! Create drawings using sticks, dowels, India ink and chunky charcoal as you investigate wood, earth and fire. Build your own unique drawing board and see how metal can turn into a drawing material when it connects with magnets. Construct a weather vane to determine wind direction, and design wind chimes representing the elements. Tour the gallery to see how local artist Paddy Lamb combines these elements into artwork about home, place and memory. Record some of your weather and science experiments from the day and place it in a time capsule that you can open in the future!

gallery@501 Upcoming Exhibits

IN THE WORLD BUT NOT OF IT by Tim Smith

"Baker Colony" by Tim Smith Kelly Waldner stands atop her quarter horse mix Kia

January 10 to February 23, 2020

Reception: January 10 at 7 p.m. Artist in attendance

This exhibit includes documentary photography based on an ongoing nine-year project photographing the Hutterites, a communal Anabaptist religious group that live apart from mainstream society on colonies throughout Canada. What began as a simple encounter with members of the Deerboine Hutterite Colony in the spring of 2009 has grown into a multi-layer long-term documentation of the Hutterites.

TBD by Paddy Lamb

"The Growth of Privilege Reaches the Point of Prejudice" by Paddy Lamb

March 5 to April 26, 2020

Reception: March 5 at 7 p.m. Artist in attendance

Paddy Lamb works with collected objects and artifacts that have a deeply personal, tactile significance, reflecting on cultural heritage and memory. Lamb's work if a reaction to the blindness that often accompanies progress and prosperity, and the utopian demand for instant solutions to productivity and happiness.
