Policy Statement

The 2016 Strathcona County Social Framework sets out a platform for a new way of thinking and working together to improve social outcomes in Strathcona County.

Strathcona County provides grant funding to groups of citizens, non-profit organizations and neighbourhoods so they can contribute to this intention. The Social Framework Community Grants enable groups to undertake projects that create positive, community-wide results or systemic changes.

The grants program shall consist of the following three funding streams:

- Core social funding, for one to three years
- Collaboration funding, for two to three years
- Community seed funding, for up to one year

A fair and transparent process will guide funding recommendations and decisions.

Purpose

The policy has four purposes:

- To support the provision of preventive services that enhance the social well-being of individuals and families and strengthen personal or community life through promotion or intervention strategies provided at the earliest opportunity.
- To align grant funding with the Social Framework.
- To provide a range of funding opportunities to enable citizens from community and neighbourhood groups to non-profit organizations to act in support of the Social Framework.
- To support collective learning on how to better work together toward positive community and system change.

Definitions

Social services – programs that support the well-being of residents of Strathcona County and strengthen personal or community life.

Core social funding – financial assistance to eligible social non-profit organizations that supports a portion of operating expenses for a one to three year period.

Collaboration funding – financial assistance for two to three years to eligible non-profit organizations that form partnerships and relationships to address community social issues.
 Community seed funding – financial assistance to eligible individuals or groups for projects that contribute to positive change in the community.

Guidelines

Achievement of the Social Framework outcomes requires a shift in thinking, behaving, and convening as organizations, community groups and individuals. The shifts described below will guide grant applicants and Strathcona County throughout the process and will be considered in application review and selection.

SHIFT FROM	TO
Programmatic Responses: a narrow focus on an issue or group	Systemic Thinking: a broader focus on how this issue impacts the collective
Do for people: a paternalistic view of citizens	Do with people: an empowerment and resiliency view of citizens
Incremental, organization-level outcomes: an inward focus	High aspiration and community-wide outcomes: an outward collective focus
Working in silos: an isolated approach	Collective ownership: a shared, collaborative approach
Focus on symptoms: a reactive, short-term view	Focus on root causes: a long term, proactive and preventative view
