

Message from Mayor Rod Frank

In Strathcona County, we believe in the importance of being active at any age. A key component to empowering our residents to lead healthy and active lifestyles is promoting physical literacy in our community. The International Physical Literacy Association defines physical literacy as “the motivation, confidence, physical competence, knowledge, and understanding to value and take responsibility for engaging in physical activities for life.”

The programs included in our Recreation Guide have been created with a focus on developing the fundamental skills that build physical literacy. Whether you are making pottery, performing in a play, playing badminton, learning to cross-country ski, or painting a picture, you are building important skills like agility, balance, coordination and speed.

In addition to leading an overall healthy and active lifestyle, people who are physically literate also benefit from developing positive social skills, educational success, and good physical and mental health. Participating in Strathcona County’s recreation and cultural programs is a fantastic way to connect with your community and learn new skills.

You can find more information about physical literacy on page 41.

Enjoy physical activities!

Sincerely,

Rod

Rod Frank
Mayor
Strathcona County
